

Technology, Economic and Societal Opportunities and Women

WHEN 6 November 2012 • 16.30-18.00 WHERE Workshop room 4

From micro-lending for business opportunities to using technology to address abuse, join us to consider the current and potential, economic, social and educational opportunities that the Internet elicits for women.

Featuring a multistakeholder panel, this workshop promises an interactive discussion on the potential policy and regulatory solutions that can improve access to the full spectrum of empowering information on the Internet.

MODERATED BY

Virat Bhatia, Chairman, Communication and Digital Economy Committee, FICCI, and President, EA, South Asia, AT&T

PANELLISTS

Antoaneta Angelova-Krasteva, Head of Unit, Stakeholders, DG CONNECT, European Commission

Alice Munyua, Ministry of Information and Communications, Kenya

Yara Sallam, Manager of the Women Human Rights Defenders Program, Nazra

Theresa Swinehart, Executive Director, Global Internet Policy, Verizon

LEAD DISCUSSANTS

Grace Githaiga, Kenya ICT Action Network (KICTANet), Kenya

P. Usha Rani, Director, Institutional Building, SERP of Government of Andhra Pradesh

REMOTE MODERATOR

Raquel Gatto, Member of the IGF Remote Participation Working Group, Director at Internet Society Brazil Chapter

International Chamber of Commerce
The world business organization

Contact: Catherine Foster
catherine.foster@iccwbo.org, + 33 (0) 7 60 57 96 68