

Table of Contents

Introduction to the legal environment for doing business

- Chapter 1 - The History of Economic Law in China
- Chapter 2 - Constitutional and Administrative Law
- Chapter 3 - Civil Law
- Chapter 4 - Business Criminal Law

International trade and marketing

- Chapter 5 - International Trade
- Chapter 6 - Shipping
- Chapter 7 - Industrial Property
- Chapter 8 - Trademarks
- Chapter 9 - Copyright
- Chapter 10 - Internet-related Intellectual Property
- Chapter 11 - Marketing
- Chapter 12 - Trade Finance

Operating a business

- Chapter 13 - Foreign Direct Investment
- Chapter 14 - Business Organizations
- Chapter 15 - Real Estate
- Chapter 16 - Labour and Social Law
- Chapter 17 - Environmental Law
- Chapter 18 - Insurance
- Chapter 19 - Project Management

Finance

- Chapter 20 - Financial Institutions
- Chapter 21 - Capital Markets
- Chapter 22 - International Capital Flows
- Chapter 23 - Indirect Taxation
- Chapter 24 - Taxation of Business Income
- Chapter 25 - Taxation of Real Property
- Chapter 26 - Taxation of Personal Income

Dispute settlement

- Chapter 27 - Conciliation
- Chapter 28 - Administrative Remedies
- Chapter 29 - Litigation
- Chapter 30 - Arbitration

Chapter 1 - The History of Economic Law in China

1. Economic thought in ancient China
2. The criminal orientation of traditional Chinese law
3. Judicial procedure
4. Civil law and economic law
5. Conclusion

Chapter 2 - Constitutional and Administrative Law

1. Introduction

2. The Chinese State

3. The Constitution

3.1. General principles

3.2. The fundamental rights and duties of citizens

3.3. The central level of government

3.3.1. The National People's Congress

3.3.2. The President and the Vice-President of the PRC

3.3.3. The State Council

3.3.4. The Central Military Commission

3.4. Local people's congresses

3.5. Local people's governments

3.6. Organs of self-government in autonomous regions, prefectures and counties

3.7. The people's courts

3.8. The people's procuratorates

3.9. The Special Administrative Regions

3.9.1. Hong Kong

3.9.2. Macao

3.10. Taiwan

4. Legislation

4.1. National legislation

4.1.1. Scope of national legislation

4.1.2. The national legislative process

4.1.3. Interpretation of national laws

4.2. Administrative regulations (xing zheng fa gui)

4.3. Local regulations (di fang xing fa gui), autonomous provisions (zi zhi tiao li) and special provisions (dan xing tiao li)

4.4. Administrative rules (bu men gui zhang) and local rules (di fang zheng fu gui zhang)

4.5. Hierarchy of norms

4.6. The resolution of conflicts among norms

5. Administrative law

5.1. Administrative licences

5.1.1. General provisions

5.1.2. Institution of administrative licences

5.1.3. Organs qualified to implement licensing regimes

5.1.4. Procedures applicable to administrative licences

5.1.5. Liabilities

5.2. Administrative punishments

5.2.1. Types of administrative penalties

5.2.2. Organs qualified to administer administrative sanctions

5.2.3. Jurisdiction with respect to administrative punishments

5.2.4. Decisions to apply administrative punishments

5.2.5. Attenuation of administrative punishments

5.2.5. Execution of administrative punishments

5.2.6. Liabilities

5.2.7. Limitation periods

5.2.8. Liabilities of administrative organs and of their personnel

5.3. Case study of a regulated activity: the legal profession

5.3.1. The national regulatory framework applicable to legal services

5.3.1.1. Licence to practise law

5.3.1.2. Licences for law firms

5.3.1.3. Transformation of law firms

5.3.1.4. Rights and obligations of law firms

5.3.1.5. Bar associations

5.3.1.6. Code of ethics

5.3.2. The regulation of foreign law firms

5.3.2.1. Legal services in the WTO Accession Protocol

5.3.2.2. Qualifications of foreign law firms

5.3.2.3. Licences for foreign lawyers

5.3.2.4. Business scope and practice rules

5.3.2.5. Sanctions

Chapter 3 - Civil Law

1. Introduction

2. General Principles of Civil Law

2.1. Civil rights

2.2. Business organizations

2.3. Legal persons

2.4. Legal acts and agency

2.5. Rights and obligations

2.6. Civil relations with foreigners

3. Torts

4. Contracts

4.1. Generally applicable rules

4.1.1. Formation

4.1.2. Validity

4.1.3. Interpretation

4.1.4. Performance

4.1.5. Transfer of ownership

4.1.6. Assignment

4.1.7. Discharge of rights and obligations

4.1.8. Liability for breach of contract

4.1.9. Choice of law in foreign-related contracts

4.1.10. Dispute resolution

4.1.11. Limitation periods

4.2. Specific contracts

4.2.1. Sales contracts

4.2.2. Loan contracts

5. Property

5.1. General principles

5.2. Protection of property rights

5.3. Ownership and usufructuary rights

5.4. State property

5.5. Property of collectives

5.6. Private property

5.7. Natural resources

5.8. Expropriation

5.9. Joint ownership

5.10. Establishment, modification, transfers and lapses of property rights

5.10.1. Immovable property

5.10.2. Movable property

5.10.3. Secured interests in property

5.10.4. Guarantees

5.10.5. Mortgages

5.11. Protection of the good faith taker of property

5.12. Possession

5.13. Lost property

6. Trusts

7. Conclusion

Chapter 4 - Business Criminal Law

1. Introduction

2. Bribery of officials

2.1. Definition

2.2. Sanctions

2.3. Cases: Bribery in bidding

3. Commercial Bribery

3.1. Definitions

3.2. Sanctions

4. Impact of international conventions and foreign domestic laws on bribery committed in the PRC

4.1. OECD Convention on Combating Bribery

4.1.1. Bribes offered by a foreign person

4.1.2. Bribes offered by the Chinese affiliate of a foreign parent company

4.1.3. Bribery committed in part abroad

4.2. United Nations Convention against Corruption

4.3. The United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA)

4.3.1. Broad applicability

4.3.2. Sanctions

4.4. French criminal law

5. Money laundering

5.1. Definition

5.2. Financial regulations

5.3. Sanctions

5.4. Acts falling within the scope of money laundering in practice

5.5. Impact of foreign domestic law and international conventions

6. Criminal fraud within enterprises

6.1. Capital registration and contributions

6.1.1. Definitions

6.1.2. Prosecution

6.1.3. Sanctions

6.1.4. Main issues

6.2. Misappropriation of corporate assets

6.2.1. Definitions

6.2.2. Prosecution and sanctions

6.2.3. Prohibited Conduct

6.3. Liquidation

7. Criminal procedure

7.1. Evolution of criminal procedure law

7.2. Main features of the 1997 Procedure Law

7.2.1. Presumption of Innocence

7.2.2. Right to counsel

7.2.3. Detention

7.2.4. Right to appeal

7.2.5. Trial procedures

7.2.6. Incidental civil actions

7.2.7. Denials of justice

7.3. National authorities in charge of criminal cases

7.3.1. Public security organs

7.3.2. People's procuratorates

7.3.3. The people's courts

7.4. Time limits in criminal procedure

7.4.1. Investigation

7.4.2. Authorizations for arrest

7.4.3. Detention on suspicion

7.4.4. Appointment of defence counsel

7.4.5. Examination for prosecution

7.4.6. First instance

7.4.6.1. Public prosecutions

7.4.6.2. Private prosecutions

7.4.7. Filing appeals

7.4.8. Hearing appeals

7.4.9. Retrials

Chapter 5 - International Trade

1. Introduction

- 1.1. World Trade Organization Accession Agreement
- 1.2. International conventions and treaties to which China is a party or signatory
- 1.3. Principal laws and regulations
- 1.4. Foreign trade administration

2. The Foreign Trade Law

- 2.1. Legislative purpose
- 2.2. Scope
- 2.3. Foreign trade system
- 2.4. Foreign trade operators
- 2.5. International trade in goods and technology
- 2.6. International trade in services
- 2.7. Protection of trade-related intellectual property rights
- 2.8. Order in the foreign trade sector
- 2.9. Foreign trade investigations
- 2.10. Foreign trade remedies
- 2.11. Foreign trade promotion
- 2.12. Sanctions

3. The Customs Law

- 3.1. Customs administration
- 3.2. Inward- and outward-bound means of transportation
- 3.3. Inward- and outward-bound goods
- 3.4. Customs duties
- 3.5. Customs bond

3.6. Enforcement

3.7. Sanctions

4. Administration of imports and exports

4.1. Restrictions on trade

4.2. State trading

4.3. Provisional measures

4.4. Sanctions

4.5. Appeals

5. Import and export commodities inspection

5.1. Inspection of imported commodities

5.2. Inspection of exported commodities

5.3. Appeals

5.4. Infractions

6. Regulation of international technology trade

6.1. The Foreign Trade Law provisions regarding international trade in technology

6.2. Scope of application of Chinese law

6.3. Definitions of technology

6.4. Definitions of transfers of technology

6.5. Conditions applicable to technology transfer contracts

6.6. Sanctions

7. Foreign trade agency agreements

7.1. The principal's rights and duties

7.2. The agent's rights and duties

7.3. Settlement of disputes

8. Conclusion

Chapter 6 - Shipping

1. Introduction to maritime law

1.1. Sources of maritime law in China

1.2. Scope of application of the China Maritime Code

1.3. Foreign-related matters

2. Ships

2.1. Ownership of ships

2.2. Ship management

2.3. Ship mortgages

3. Maritime liens

3.1. Definition

3.2. Priorities

3.3. Enforcement

3.4. Extinguishing

4. Contract of international carriage of goods by sea

4.1. Definition

4.2. Formation

4.3. Bills of lading

4.3.1. Definition

4.3.2. Types of bill of lading

4.3.3. Negotiability

4.3.4. Clean and foul bills of lading

4.3.5. Backdated and post-dated bill of lading

4.3.6. Validity

4.3.7. Attribution of jurisdiction over bills of lading to foreign courts

4.3.8. Arbitration clauses in bills of lading

4.3.9. Applicable law clauses in bills of lading

4.4. Carriers

4.4.1. Actual carriers

4.4.2. Non-vessel operating contractual carriers

4.5. Duties of carriers

4.5.1. Seaworthiness

4.5.2. Care of cargo

4.5.3. Deviation

4.6. Statutory immunities of the carrier

4.7. Limitation of liability

4.8. Carriage of goods under voyage charter parties

4.9. Multimodal transportation

4.10. Time limits for claim arising from contract of carriage of goods by sea

5. Charter parties

5.1. Time charter parties

5.2 Bareboat charter parties

6. Ship collisions

6.1. Definition

6.2. The losses fall where they may

6.3. Collisions arising from negligence

6.4. Compensation

6.5. Special trial procedures for ship collisions

7. Limitation of liability for maritime claims

7.1. Liability limitations

7.2. Liability limitation procedures for maritime claims

8. Salvage

9. Insurance

10. Maritime procedure

10.1. Special maritime procedure law

10.2. Jurisdiction of the maritime courts

10.3. Arrest of ships

10.3.1 Ships subject to arrest

10.3.2. Arrest procedures

10.3.3. Re-arrest of ships

10.4. Attachment and auction of cargo carried by ships

10.5. Registration of debts and procedures for satisfaction

10.6. Maritime injunctions

10.7. Maritime security

Chapter 7 - Industrial Property

1. Introduction

1.1. Evolution of the patent system

1.2. Sources of norms

1.2.1. The Constitution of 1982

1.2.2. International conventions and agreements

1.2.3. The Patent Law and its Implementation Rules

1.2.4. The General Principles of the Civil Law

1.2.5. The Criminal Law

1.2.6. The laws on enterprises

1.3. Patentable subject matter

1.4. Conditions of patentability

1.4.1. Novelty

1.4.2. Inventiveness

1.4.3. Practical applicability

1.4.4. Subject matter excluded from patent protection

1.5. Formalities

1.5.1. Application for patent

1.5.2. Examination of patent applications

1.6. Ownership and assignments of patents

1.6.1. Ownership of patents

1.6.2. Assignments of patents

1.7. Scope of exclusive rights

1.7.1. Exclusive rights of the patent owner

1.7.2. Obligations of patent owners

1.8. Limitations and exceptions to the scope of patent protection

1.8.1. Compulsory licenses

1.8.2. Exploitation according to the State plan

1.9. Duration of patents

1.9.1. Term of patents

1.9.2. Cessation of patent rights

1.9.3. Invalidation of patent rights

1.10. Infringement of patent rights

1.11. Sanctions of patent infringement

1.11.1. Administrative recourses

1.11.2. Civil remedies

1.11.3. Criminal sanctions

2. Designs for integrated circuits

3. New plant varieties

3.1. The scope of protection

- 3.2. The term of protection
- 3.3. Fair uses and compulsory licenses
- 3.4. Formalities

4. Protection of trade secrets

5. Technology trade

5.1. Technology trade in domestic law

5.1.1. Technology development contracts

5.1.2. Technology transfer contracts

5.1.3. Technical consulting and technical services contracts

5.2. Regulation of international technology trade

5.2.1. The Foreign Trade Law provisions regarding international trade in technology

5.2.2. Scope of application of Chinese law

5.2.3. Definitions of technology

5.2.4. Definitions of transfers of technology

5.2.5. Conditions applicable to technology transfer contracts

5.2.6. Violations and sanctions

6. Conclusion

Chapter 8 - Trademarks

1. Evolution of trademark law
2. Sources of norms
 - 2.1. The Constitution of 1982
 - 2.2. International conventions and agreements
 - 2.3. The Trademark Law and the Trademark Implementation Regulations
 - 2.4. The General Principles of Civil Law
 - 2.5. The Criminal Law
3. Subject matter of protection
 - 3.1. Different categories of marks
 - 3.2. Conditions of protection
4. Formalities
 - 4.1. Applications for registration
 - 4.2. Examination
 - 4.3. Preliminary approvals and objections
 - 4.4. Refusal of applications
 - 4.5. Review of decisions of the Trademark Office
 - 4.6. Registration and publication
5. Ownership and exploitation of trademarks
 - 5.1. Ownership of trademarks
 - 5.2. Assignments of trademarks
 - 5.3. Licensing of trademarks
 - 5.4. Scope of exclusive rights
 - 5.5. Duration of protection
 - 5.5.1. Period of validity and renewal
 - 5.5.2. Termination
6. Trademark-related disputes
 - 6.1. Infringements
 - 6.2. Sanctions for violations of trademarks
 - 6.2.1. Administrative recourses
 - 6.2.2. Civil remedies
 - 6.2.3. Criminal sanctions
7. Conclusion

Chapter 9 - Copyright

1. Introduction to copyright in China
 - 1.1. The general administrative framework governing copyright
 - 1.2. General scope of the Copyright Law
 - 1.3. Application of China's copyright treaty commitments

2. Copyright protection
 - 2.1. Qualifications of authors and copyright owners and their rights
 - 2.2. Definition of copyright
 - 2.3. Term of protection of copyright
 - 2.4. Exceptional uses of copyrighted works without permission

3. Licensing and assignments of copyright

4. Copyright in specific sectors
 - 4.1. Rules specific to publication of books, newspapers and periodicals
 - 4.2. Copyright in performances
 - 4.3. Sound recordings and video recordings
 - 4.4. Broadcasting by radio or television stations

5. Copyright-related disputes
 - 5.1. Civil liabilities
 - 5.2. Administrative liabilities
 - 5.3. Criminal liabilities

6. Protection of software
 - 6.1. The Software Regulation of 1991
 - 6.2. The US – China Agreement of 1995
 - 6.3. The 2001 Software Regulations
 - 6.4. Software-related disputes

7. Conclusion

Chapter 10 - Internet-related Intellectual Property

1. Introduction

2. Copyright protection on the internet

3. Domain names

3.1. The regulatory framework governing domain names

3.2. Regulation of activities related to domain names

3.3. Regulation of domain names

3.4. Sanctions of domain name-related infractions

4. The regulation of internet keywords

5. Domain name and internet keyword disputes

5.1. Domain name disputes

5.2. Internet keyword disputes

6. Conclusion

Chapter 11 - Marketing

1. Introduction

- 1.1. Instauration of the internal market
- 1.2. Foreign access to the local market

2. Market access

- 2.1. China's commitments relating to its accession to the World Trade Organization
 - 2.1.1. Agencies and wholesaling
 - 2.1.2. Retailing
 - 2.1.3. Logistics
- 2.2. The regulatory framework
 - 2.2.1. The Industry-specific Guidance Catalogue for Foreign Investment
 - 2.2.2. Distribution
 - 2.2.3. Advertising
 - 2.2.4. Media
 - 2.2.5. Logistics

3. Products

- 3.1. Regulatory framework
 - 3.1.1. The Product Quality Law
 - 3.1.2. The Standards Law
- 3.2. State monitoring of product quality
- 3.3. Product quality certification and labelling requirements
- 3.4. Obligations of sellers with respect to quality
- 3.5. Product liability
 - 3.5.1 Strict liability
 - 3.5.2. Liabilities of producers and sellers
 - 3.5.3. Limitation periods
 - 3.5.4. Settlement of disputes
 - 3.5.4.1. Extra-judicial recourses
 - 3.5.4.2. Litigation
- 3.6. The regulation of food products
 - 3.6.1. Administrative authority over food safety
 - 3.6.2. Food safety standards
 - 3.6.3. Risk prevention measures
 - 3.6.4. International trade in food
 - 3.6.5. Enforcement

4. Prices

- 4.1. The Price Law
- 4.2. Price regulations
 - 4.2.1. Fraudulent pricing

- 4.2.2. Monopoly pricing
- 4.2.3. Hearing procedures for government pricing

5. Distribution

- 5.1. Commercial agencies
- 5.2. Brokerage contracts
- 5.3. Direct selling
 - 5.3.1. Access to direct selling activities
 - 5.3.2. Duties of direct sellers
 - 5.3.3. Rights and duties of direct salespeople
 - 5.3.4. Settlement of disputes
- 5.4. Franchising
 - 5.4.1. Qualifications as franchisors and franchisees
 - 5.4.2. Franchisors' disclosure obligations
 - 5.4.3. Franchise contracts
 - 5.4.4. Filing Requirements
 - 5.4.5. Rights and obligations of franchisors
 - 5.4.6. Rights and obligations of franchisees
 - 5.4.7. Term and termination of franchise agreements
 - 5.4.8. Foreign-invested franchises
 - 5.4.9. Violations of franchise regulations and agreements
- 5.5. Logistics
 - 5.5.1. Contracts for the carriage of cargo
 - 5.5.2. Warehousing contracts

6. Advertising

- 6.1. The Advertising Law
- 6.2. Advertisers, advertising agents and publishers
- 6.3. Advertising contents
- 6.4. Advertising activities
- 6.5. Violations and sanctions

7. Electronic commerce

- 7.1. Regulatory framework
- 7.2. Internet access providers
- 7.3. Content providers
- 7.4. Internet users
- 7.5. Commercial encryption
- 7.6. Online contracts
- 7.7. Online commercial activities
 - 7.7.1. Advertising
 - 7.7.2. News reporting
 - 7.7.3. Audiovisual products
 - 7.7.4. Cultural products
 - 7.7.5. Publishing

- 7.7.6. Education
- 7.7.7. Banking
- 7.7.8. Securities trading
- 7.7.9. Pharmaceuticals
- 7.8. Taxation of e-commerce
- 7.9. Personal information
- 7.10. Unsolicited e-mail

- 7.11. Violations and sanctions

- 8. Consumer protection

- 8.1. General provisions
- 8.2. The Consumer Protection Law

- 9. Unfair competition

- 9.1. The Unfair Competition Law
- 9.2. Bid-rigging
- 9.3. Commercial bribery
- 9.4. Violations of trade secrets
- 9.5. Abuses of commercial names and identities
- 9.6. Abuses by public enterprises
- 9.7. Abuses of promotions
- 9.8. The Anti-Monopoly Law
 - 9.8.1. General principles
 - 9.8.2. Monopoly agreements
 - 9.8.3. Abuses of dominant market positions
 - 9.8.4. Concentrations
 - 9.8.5. Abuses of administrative powers to restrict competition
 - 9.8.6. Investigations
 - 9.8.7. Liabilities

- 10. Conclusion

Chapter 12 - Trade Finance

1. Introduction

2. Loans of money

3. Negotiable instruments

3.1. General principles

3.2. Bills of exchange

3.3. Promissory notes

3.4. Cheques

3.5. Foreign-related negotiable instruments

3.6. Infractions and sanctions

4. Secured transactions

4.1. Guarantees

4.1.1. Guarantee contracts

4.1.2. Guarantee liability

4.2. Mortgages

4.2.1. Mortgage property

4.2.2. Mortgage contracts

4.2.3. Effects of mortgages

4.2.4. Enforcement of mortgages

4.2.5. Mortgages of maximum amount

4.3. Pledges

4.3.1. Pledges of movables

4.3.2. Pledges of rights

4.4. Liens

4.5. Deposits

5. Leasing

5.1. Financial leasing under the Contract Law

5.2. Administrative measures with respect to leasing activities

5.3. Administrative measures with respect to foreign investment in leasing activities

6. Trading-trust contracts

7. Financing international trade

7.1. Documentary credits

7.2. Bill purchases

7.3. Bank guarantees

7.4. Factoring

7.5. Forfeiting

7.6. Trust receipts

Chapter 13 - Foreign Direct Investment

1. Introduction

1.1. The regulatory framework

1.2. The choice of venue

1.3. Tax considerations

2. Representative offices

2.1. Scope of activities

2.2. Conditions and formalities relating to establishment

2.3. Registration of a representative office

2.4. Tax considerations

3. Foreign investment approval

3.1. Foreign Investment Guidelines

3.2. Foreign Investment Approval

3.2.1. Main approval process

3.2.2. Special approval processes

4. Setting up through constitution of a Chinese enterprise

4.1. Basic concepts and terminology

4.1.1. Enterprises and companies

4.1.2. Legal persons and legal representatives

4.1.3. Capital of FIEs

4.1.4. Principal forms of FIEs

4.1.4.1. EJVs

4.1.4.2. CJVs

4.1.4.3. Negotiating JVs

4.1.4.4. WFOEs

4.1.4.5. LLCs and CLSs

4.1.4.6. Holding companies

4.1.4.7. FICLS

4.1.4.8. Single-person FIEs

4.2. Approval of FIEs

4.3. Registration of FIEs

4.3.1. Pre-registration of the FIE's name with the SAIC

4.3.2. Registration with the SAIC

4.3.3. Subsequent formalities and registrations with various administrations

4.4. Management of FIEs

4.5. Accounting principles

4.6. Duration and termination of FIEs

5. Setting up through acquisitions

5.1. Equity and assets acquisitions

5.2. Acquisition of companies listed in China

5.3. Acquisitions of FIEs

5.4. Approval procedures and requirements

5.5. Antitrust filings and review

5.6. Payment of acquisitions

6. Profit Repatriation Strategies

6.1. Foreign investors from countries with a tax treaty with China

6.2. Foreign investors from countries without a tax treaty with China

6.3. Distribution of dividends deriving from purchased companies and advance recovery of foreign investments

7. Nationalization and guarantees with respect to foreign investment

Chapter 14 - Business Organizations

1. Introduction

1.1. Evolution of Chinese economic organizations since 1949

1.2. Legal framework

2. Business organizations prior to the reform

2.1. State-owned enterprises (SOEs)

2.2. Collectively-owned enterprises (COEs)

2.2.1. Urban COEs

2.2.2. Rural COEs

2.3. Individual industrial and commercial households (IICHs)

2.4. Rural land contract operation households (RLCOHs)

2.5. Township and village enterprises (TVEs)

3. Business organizations since the reform

3.1. Business associations under the Company Law

3.1.1. Limited liability companies (LLCs)

3.1.2. Companies limited by shares or joint stock companies (CLSs)

3.1.3. Wholly State-owned Companies (WSOCs)

3.1.4. LLCs governed by specific laws and regulations

3.1.4.1. Commercial banks

3.1.4.2. Securities companies

3.1.4.3. Securities investment fund management companies

3.1.4.4. Insurance companies

3.2. Partnerships

3.2.1. Partnership Enterprise Law

3.2.2. Applicability of the Partnership Enterprise Law

3.3. Wholly individual-owned enterprises (WIOEs)

3.3.1. Wholly Individual-owned Enterprise Law

3.3.2. Distinctions between WIOEs and IICHs

4. Enactment of the Company Law

4.1. Basic legal terminology

4.1.1. Enterprises and companies

4.1.2. Legal personality

4.1.3. Legal representatives

4.1.4. Scope of business

4.2. Principal corporate forms

4.2.1. Limited liability companies (LLCs) and companies limited by shares (CLSs)

4.2.2. Applicability of the Company Law to foreign direct investment

5. Overview of the Company Law

- 5.1. Establishment of companies
 - 5.1.1. LLCs
 - 5.1.2. CLSs
- 5.2. Capital requirements and contributions
 - 5.2.1. Share capital of LLCs
 - 5.2.2. Share capital of CLSs
- 5.3. Shareholder rights
 - 5.3.1. Rights of shareholders of LLCs
 - 5.3.2. Rights of shareholders of CLSs
- 5.4. Transfers of shares
 - 5.4.1. Transfers of shares in LLCs
 - 5.4.2. Transfers of shares in CLSs
- 5.5. Corporate governance
 - 5.5.1. Shareholders' meeting
 - 5.5.2. Board of directors
 - 5.5.3. Management
 - 5.5.4. Board of supervisors
- 5.6. Accounting principles
 - 5.6.1. Financial and accounting reports and information disclosure
 - 5.6.2. Statutory reserve fund and statutory public welfare fund
- 5.7. Bankruptcy, dissolution and liquidation
- 5.8. Liability and sanctions
 - 5.8.1. Liability under the Company Law
 - 5.8.2. Corporate criminal liability

- 6. Corporate registration
 - 6.1. Enterprise name registration
 - 6.2. Disclosure requirements in connection with enterprise registration
 - 6.3. Registration procedures
 - 6.3.1. Registration of LLCs

 - 6.3.2. Registration of CLSs
 - 6.4. Ongoing disclosure requirements
 - 6.5. Registration fees
 - 6.6. Annual inspections and audits
 - 6.7. Violations and sanctions

- 7. Amendments to the Company Law in 2005
 - 7.1. One person limited liability companies (OPLLCs)
 - 7.2. Rights of minority shareholders
 - 7.3. Piercing the Corporate Veil
 - 7.4. Forms of capital contributions including intellectual property rights and shareholders rights
 - 7.5. Rights to dividends and to subscribe for additional shares
 - 7.6. Restrictions on investments in other companies
 - 7.7. Capital requirements for LLCs and listed companies

- 7.8. Legal representatives
- 7.9. Self-dealing
- 7.10. Governance in listed companies
- 7.11. Lock-up period in listed companies
- 7.12. Share issues

8. Conclusion

Chapter 15 - Real Estate

1. Introduction

1.1. Land administration in Chinese history

1.2. Land ownership after the Communist Revolution

2. Reform of the legal régime governing land and real estate

2.1. Land ownership and land-use rights under the constitutional amendment of 1988

2.2. The sources of laws governing land-use rights and real estate

2.3. The Property Law

2.3.1. Establishment, modification, transfers and termination of property rights

2.3.2. Apartment buildings

2.3.3. Neighbourhood relationships

2.3.4. Rights to land contract management

2.3.5. Right to the use of construction land

2.3.6. Right to the use of the residential housing land

2.3.7. Easements

3. Land-use rights

3.1. The Land Administration Law

3.2. The Urban Real Estate Law

3.3. Obtaining land-use rights

3.4. Terms of land-use rights, their renewals and interruptions

3.5. Transfers of land-use rights

4. Real estate development and transactions

4.1. Real estate development

4.2. Construction contracts

4.3. Real estate transactions

4.4. Mortgages of real property

4.5. Leases

4.6. Real estate intermediary service organizations

5. Administration of real estate

5.1. Real estate administration authorities

5.1.1. Land administration

5.1.2. Urban real estate administration

5.1.3. Administration of real estate development

5.2. Real property appraisal

5.3. Registration

5.4. Sanctions

6. Fees and taxation

6.1. Land-use fee for the grant of land use rights

6.2. Idle land fees

6.3. Land capital gains tax

6.4. Other fees and taxes

7. Foreign investment and real estate

7.1. Methods of accessing land-rights for foreign investors

7.1.1. Capital contributions

7.1.2. Applications for land-use rights by foreign investment enterprises

7.1.3. Leases from the government by foreign investment enterprises

7.1.4. Leases from the Chinese partner by foreign investment enterprises

7.1.5. Government grants by agreement

7.1.6. Government grants by auction or tender

7.1.7. Transfers by existing users

7.1.8. Leases from existing users

7.2. Foreign-invested development and management of tracts of land

7.3. Residential housing

8. Conclusion

Chapter 16 - Labour and Social Law

1. Introduction

1.1. The labour market

1.2. Evolution of labour legislation

1.3. Role of the Chinese Communist Party and of labour unions

1.5. Labour regulations specific to Foreign-invested Enterprises (FIEs)

1.5. Employment by representative offices

2. Regulation of the labour market

2.1. General principles of the Labour Law

2.2. Individual labour contracts and collective labour agreements

2.3. Term of labour contracts

2.4. Working hours

2.5. Wages

2.6. Legal holidays

2.7. Protection of minors and women

2.8. Working conditions

2.9. Confidentiality clauses

2.10. Non-competition clauses

2.11. Vocational training

2.12. Social insurance and welfare benefits

2.13. Resignations

2.14. Dismissals

2.15. Administrative supervision and sanctions

2.16. Employment and corporate governance

3. Settlement of labour disputes

3.1. Principles of the Labour Law concerning dispute settlement

3.2. Conciliation

3.3. Arbitration

3.3.1. Labour arbitration committees

3.3.2. The parties to a labour dispute

3.3.3. Arbitration procedures

3.3.4. Disqualification of arbitrators

3.3.5. Conciliation during arbitration

3.3.6. Enforcement of effective conciliation agreements and statements and of arbitration awards

3.4. Litigation

4. Immigration and employment of foreigners in China

4.1. Immigration

4.1.1. Aliens

4.1.2. Permanent residency

4.2. Employment of foreigners in China

- 4.2.1. Employers' employment permits
- 4.2.2. Employees' employment permits
- 4.2.3. Annual inspections
- 4.2.4. Sanctions

Chapter 17 - Environmental Law

1. Introduction

1.1. International treaties

1.2. Constitution

1.3. Major environmental protection laws

1.4. General principles of environmental policy

1.5. Integration of the requirements of environmental protection in other policies

1.6. Implementing regulations and application

2. Water pollution

2.1. River basins and protected areas

2.2. Protection plans and measures

2.3. Measures concerning business activities

2.4. Discharge standards and fees

2.5. Urban wastewater treatment

2.6. Domestic and drinking water

2.7. Surface water

2.8. Ground water protection

2.9. Protection against damaging agricultural practices

3. Air pollution

3.1. General ambient air protection

3.2. Business activities

3.3. Key cities

3.4. Motor vehicles and vessels

3.5. Coal combustion

3.6. Waste-gas, dust and malodorous substances

3.7. Acid rain

4. Pollution caused by waste

4.1. General rules on waste

4.2. Industrial waste

4.3. Domestic waste

4.4. Hazardous waste

4.5. Packaging waste

5. Prevention of major accidents

6. Instruments applicable to all areas of the environment

6.1. Public participation

6.2. Environmental impact assessment

6.3. Pollution prevention and control

6.4. Cleaner production promotion

7. Economic instruments

7.1. Moral suasion

7.2. Taxation

7.3. Labelling

7.4. Audits

7.5. Liabilities

Chapter 18 - Insurance

1. Introduction

- 1.1. Hierarchy of insurance laws and regulations
- 1.2. Supervision and administration of the insurance industry
- 1.3. Insurance market participants
 - 1.3.1. Insurers
 - 1.3.2. Insurance intermediaries
 - 1.3.3. Policy holders

2. The Insurance Law

- 2.1. Fundamental principles of the insurance regulatory framework
- 2.2. General principles applicable to insurance contracts
- 2.3. Disclosure and misrepresentation
- 2.4. Formation
- 2.5. Contents
- 2.6. Modification and termination
- 2.7. Claims procedures
- 2.8. Fraudulent claims
- 2.9. Policy interpretation
- 2.10. Reinsurance
- 2.11. Assignments
- 2.12. Post-contractual obligations

3. Property insurance

- 3.1. Insured value
- 3.2. Aversion and mitigation of insured losses
- 3.3. Termination of the contract
- 3.4. Subrogation

4. Life insurance contracts

- 4.1. Insurable interest
- 4.2. Declaration of age
- 4.3. Payment on death
- 4.4. Payment of premiums
- 4.5. Beneficiaries

5. Other types of insurance

- 5.1. Liability insurance
- 5.2. Credit insurance
- 5.3. Marine insurance

6. Insurance regulation

- 6.1. Scope of business
- 6.2. Insurance agents and brokers
- 6.3. Supervision and administration of insurance activities
- 6.4. Prudential norms
- 6.5. Uses of funds
- 6.6. Liabilities for insurance infractions

Chapter 19 - Project Management

1. Introduction

2. The attribution of projects

2.1. Tenders

2.1.1. General principles

2.1.2. Issuing invitations to bid

2.1.3. Submission of bids

2.1.4. Determination of the winning bidder

2.1.5. Liabilities

2.2. Government procurement

2.2.1. General principles

2.2.2. The government procurement process

2.2.3. Methods of government procurement

2.2.4. Government procurement proceedings

2.2.5. Government procurement contracts

2.2.6. Complaints

2.2.7. Supervision of government procurement

2.2.8. Liabilities

3. Construction

3.1. Contracts for construction projects

3.2. Construction licences

3.3. Qualifications to carry on construction activities

3.4. Awarding of contracts and contracting

3.5. Supervision of construction projects

3.6. Safety and operations management

3.7. Construction quality

3.8. Liabilities

4. Foreign-invested enterprises in project development

4.1. Foreign-invested construction and engineering design enterprises

4.2. Foreign-invested construction enterprises

5. Build-Operate-Transfer projects

6. Financing of foreign projects by Chinese entities

Chapter 20 - Financial Institutions

1. Introduction

2. The institutional framework

2.1. The People's Bank of China

2.1.1. Main functions

2.1.2. Administration

2.2. The China Banking Regulatory Commission

2.2.1. Organization

2.2.2. Scope of activities

2.2.3. Inspections

2.2.4. Hearings

2.2.5. Administrative sanctions

3. Commercial banks

3.1. Establishment

3.2. Organization

3.3. Operating norms

3.4. Lending activity

3.5. Finance and accounting

3.6. Assumptions of control by the CBRC

4. Online banking

4.1. The PBOC Electronic Payments Guidelines

4.2. CBRC standards governing online banking

5. Trust and Investment Companies (TICs)

5.1. Establishment, modification and termination of TICs

5.2. Business scope

5.3. Supervision and self-regulation

5.4. TICs' disclosure requirements

6. Other financial institutions

6.1. Enterprise Group Finance Companies (EGFCs)

6.1.1. Establishment

6.1.2. Application procedures

6.1.3. Business scope

6.1.4. Operational standards

6.2. Automobile financing companies

6.3. Financial leasing companies

7. Foreign financial institutions in China

7.1. Foreign equity investment in Chinese financial institutions

7.1.1. Qualifications to invest in a domestic financial institution

7.1.2. Approvals

7.2. Foreign-invested Enterprise Financial Institutions (FIEFIs)

7.2.1. Capital requirements and legal forms

7.2.2. Business scope

7.2.3. Specific requirements with respect to renminbi business

7.2.4. Supervision and administration

7.3. Foreign-invested financial leasing companies

8. Criminal liabilities of financial institutions

8.1. The Criminal Law

8.2. The banking laws and regulations

8.3. Criminal liabilities specific to FIEFIs

8.4. Money laundering

8.4.1. Institutional solutions

8.4.2. Subject financial institutions

8.4.3. Controls on commercial banks

9. Conclusion

Chapter 21 - Capital Markets

1. Introduction to the capital markets in China
2. History of capital markets in China
 - 2.1. Re-emergence of the debt market
 - 2.2. Re-emergence of the equity markets
 - 2.3. Re-emergence of the futures markets
3. Regulatory framework
 - 3.1. Principal institutions
 - 3.2. Basic legal principles applicable to the Chinese capital markets
 - 3.2.1. Principal sources of norms applicable to the Chinese capital markets
 - 3.2.2. Introduction to the principal norms applicable to the Chinese capital markets
 - 3.2.3. The Code of Governance for Listed Companies
4. Legal regimes governing the issue and trading of bonds
 - 4.1. Domestic corporate bond issues
 - 4.2. Regulation of secondary trading of bonds in China
 - 4.3. Asset securitization
 - 4.3.1. Initiating asset securitization operations
 - 4.3.2. Trustees
 - 4.3.3. Loan managers
 - 4.3.4. Fund depository institutions
 - 4.3.5. Issue and trading of asset-backed securities
 - 4.3.6. Information disclosure
 - 4.3.7. Rights of holders of asset-backed securities
5. Legal regimes governing the issue of shares to the public
 - 5.1. General qualifications for issuing shares to the public
 - 5.2. Conditions specific to the issue of securities by entities transformed into companies
 - 5.3. Procedures relating to issues of securities to the public
 - 5.4. Distribution of an initial issue of shares
 - 5.5. New share issues by listed companies
 - 5.6. Wrongful issue of shares and relevant sanctions
6. Legal regimes governing the secondary trading of shares
 - 6.1. Listing requirements
 - 6.2. Ongoing disclosure requirements
 - 6.3. Mergers and acquisitions
 - 6.3.1. Takeovers by agreement
 - 6.3.2. Takeovers by public offers
 - 6.3.3. Exemptions

- 6.3.4. Violations of takeover rules
- 6.3.5. Takeovers of State-owned Enterprises
- 6.4. Insider trading
- 6.5. Other trading irregularities
- 6.6. Dispute settlement
- 6.7. Tax aspects of share trading

- 7. Legal aspects of trading in derivative instruments
 - 7.1. Definition of derivative instruments
 - 7.2. Regulation of market entry
 - 7.3. Risk management
 - 7.4. Liabilities

 - 7.5. Futures

- 8. Collective investment funds
 - 8.1. Securities investment funds
 - 8.2. Securities investment trusts
 - 8.3. Operations of securities investment funds and trusts
 - 8.4. Raising of funds
 - 8.5. Trading of closed fund shares
 - 8.6. Subscription and redemption of open fund shares

- 9. Regulation of securities companies
 - 9.1. Qualifications of securities companies
 - 9.2. Duties of securities companies
 - 9.3. The supervisory powers of the CSRC

- 10. Regulation of stock exchanges

- 11. Regulation of registration and clearing institutions

- 12. Regulation of investment advisors and other securities industry-related parties

- 13. Self-regulation

- 14. The Security Investor Protection Fund

- 15. Sanctions

- 16. Conclusion

Chapter 22 - International Capital Flows

1. Introduction

1.1. The gradual liberalization of capital account transactions

1.2. Introduction to the exchange regime

1.3. Recent reforms of the foreign exchange market

2. Overseas debts and guarantees

2.1. The general framework governing foreign debts

2.2. Registration of foreign loans to Chinese entities

2.3. Guarantees by domestic parties of obligations of foreign entities

3. Shares in Chinese companies listed on Chinese stock markets circulating abroad

3.1. Issues of B shares

3.2. Rules specific to the trading of B shares

3.2.1. Shanghai Stock Exchange rules applicable to trading in B shares

3.2.2. Shenzhen Stock Exchange rules applicable to trading in B shares

4. Shares of Chinese companies listed on overseas stock markets

4.1. The approval process

4.2. The Overseas-Share Articles of Association Regulation

4.3. Rules specific to overseas listings of Chinese company shares

5. Investments by Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors (QFIs) in A shares

6. Foreign investments in State shares and legal person shares

7. Strategic investments by foreigners in listed companies

8. Overseas investments by Chinese individuals and enterprises

8.1. The SAFE's regulations on overseas investment

8.2. The NDRC's Circular on overseas investment approvals

8.3. Overseas investment by insurance companies and social security funds

8.4. Domestic residents' roundtrip investment through offshore special purpose vehicles

8.5. Qualified Domestic Institutional Investors' (QDIIs') overseas investments

8.5.1. Qualifications

8.5.2. Foreign investment consultants

8.5.3. Asset custody

8.5.5. Quota and capital management

8.5.4. Raising of capital and information disclosure

8.5.6. Supervision and administration

8.6. Financing of foreign projects by Chinese entities

9. Conclusion

Chapter 23 - Indirect Taxation

1. Introduction

2. Value Added Tax (VAT)

2.1. Scope of VAT

2.1.1. Supply of goods

2.1.2. Services subject to VAT

2.1.3. Imports of goods

2.1.4. Territorial application

2.1.5. Exempt supplies

2.1.6. Small and exempt suppliers

2.2. Timing

2.3. Input Tax Credits (ITCs)

2.4. VAT rates

2.5. Exports

2.6. Administration

2.7. VAT refunds for Foreign Invested Enterprises (FIEs)

2.8. VAT refund rates

2.9. Procedure for claiming VAT refunds

3. Business Tax

3.1. Scope

3.2. Exemptions

3.3. Tax base

3.4. Timing

3.5. Tax rates

3.6. Administration

4. Other indirect taxes

4.1. Consumption Tax

4.2. Resource Tax

4.3. Agriculture Native Product Tax

4.4. Stamp duties

4.5. Vehicle and Vessel Tax

4.6. Banquet Tax

Chapter 24 - Taxation of Business Income

1. Introduction

- 1.1. Scope of the Uniform Enterprise Income Tax
- 1.2. History of the taxation of domestic enterprises
 - 1.2.1. Scope of taxation of domestic enterprises
 - 1.2.2. Computation of taxable income
 - 1.2.3. Rates
 - 1.2.4. Losses
 - 1.2.5. Double taxation relief
 - 1.2.6. Administration
- 1.3. History of the taxation of FIEs and FEs
 - 1.3.1. Scope of taxation on FIEs and FEs
 - 1.3.2. Determination of the source of income

2. Computation of taxable income

- 2.1. Taxable income for various industries
- 2.2. Timing of income and expenditures
- 2.3. Deductions
 - 2.3.1. Limitations
 - 2.3.2. Management fees
 - 2.3.3. Interest expense
 - 2.3.4. Entertainment
 - 2.3.5. Wages and welfare benefits
 - 2.3.6. Reserves
 - 2.3.7. Exchange gains and losses
 - 2.3.8. Research and development expenditures
- 2.4. Capital cost of depreciable assets
 - 2.4.1. Fixed assets
 - 2.4.2. Valuation
 - 2.4.3. Allowable deduction and salvage values
 - 2.4.4. Prescribed depreciation periods
 - 2.4.5. Disposals of fixed assets
- 2.5. Intangible assets
 - 2.5.1. Valuation
 - 2.5.2. Amortization period
 - 2.5.3. Amortization of start-up costs
- 2.6. Inventory valuation
- 2.7. Losses
- 2.8. Withholding tax
- 2.9. Deemed income treatment
- 2.10. Minimum debt-equity rules

3. Taxation of specific types of business

- 3.1. Financial institutions with foreign investment
- 3.2. Oil and natural gas
 - 3.2.1. Special depreciation rules
 - 3.2.2. Determination of income
 - 3.2.3. Transfers of oil contract rights
 - 3.2.4. Specific royalties
 - 3.2.5. Onshore oil and natural gas
 - 3.2.6. Payment of royalties
 - 3.2.7. Resource Tax
 - 3.2.8. Customs duties
 - 3.2.9. Reinvestment tax refunds
- 3.3. Mining
 - 3.3.1. Royalty or production-sharing ratio
 - 3.3.2. Resource tax
 - 3.3.3. Income tax
 - 3.3.4. Exploration and development
- 3.4. Insurance
- 3.5. Transfer of mining rights
- 3.6. Reclamation costs
- 3.7. Shipping and air transport
- 3.8. Electric power projects
- 3.9. Holding companies of FIEs

- 4. Taxation of business transformations
 - 4.1. Mergers
 - 4.2. Divisive reorganizations
 - 4.3. Asset transfers
 - 4.4. Liquidations

- 5. Measures to address double taxation
 - 5.1. Unilateral measures for the avoidance of double taxation
 - 5.1.1. Foreign tax credits
 - 5.1.2. Computation of foreign tax credits
 - 5.1.3. Foreign tax deductions
 - 5.2. Bilateral measures for the avoidance of double taxation
 - 5.2.1. Treaty provisions
 - 5.2.2. Tax Treaty Interpretation Circulars

- 6. Transfer pricing
 - 6.1. Related enterprises
 - 6.2. Reporting requirements
 - 6.3. Related enterprises subject to audit
 - 6.4. Methods of adjustment

 - 6.5. Rulings and advance pricing agreements
 - 6.6. Powers granted to the SAT

6.7. Substantiation of transfer pricing

6.8. Appeals

7. Tax Rates and incentives

7.1. Tax rates

7.2. Background to tax incentives

7.3. Definitions

7.3.1. Production-oriented enterprises

7.3.2. Technologically advanced enterprises

7.3.3. Export-oriented enterprises

7.3.4. Technology-intensive projects

7.3.5. Location and profits

7.4. Special zones and areas

7.4.1. Special Economic Zones

7.4.2. Open Coastal Economic Zones

7.4.3. Open Cities

7.4.4. Economic and Technology Development Zones

7.4.5. High and New Technology Zones

7.4.6. Suzhou Industrial Park

7.5. Tax holidays

7.5.1. Five-year tax incentives

7.5.2. Ten-year tax incentives

7.5.3. Three-year tax incentives

7.5.4. First profit-making year and operating period

7.6. Reduced tax rates

7.7. Export-oriented and technologically advanced enterprises

7.7.1. Export-oriented enterprises

7.7.2. Enterprises using advanced technology

7.8. Tax refunds for reinvestment of profits

7.9. Exemptions from withholding tax

7.9.1. Dividends

7.9.2. Interest

7.9.3. Rent and royalties

7.9.4. Guarantee fees

7.10. Incentives of local governments

7.11. Coastal-inland cooperation

7.12. Technological innovation

7.13. Accelerated payback of investment

7.14. Exemption from other taxes

8. Conclusion

Chapter 25 - Taxation of Real Property

1. Introduction
2. Land Appreciation Tax
3. Income from real property
 - 3.1. Source
 - 3.2. Taxable income
 - 3.3. Foreign enterprise/non-resident individuals
4. Business tax
5. Withholding Tax for non-residents
6. Urban Real Estate Tax
7. House Property Tax
8. Farmland-use Tax
9. Urban and Township Land-use Tax
10. Deeds Tax
 - 10.1. Tax base
 - 10.2. Taxable persons
 - 10.3. Exemptions
 - 10.4. Tax rates
 - 10.5. Administration and collection
11. Urban Maintenance and Development Tax
12. Stamp Tax

Chapter 26 - Taxation of Personal Income

1. Introduction

2. Liability for tax

2.1. Domicile

2.2. Residence

2.2.1. One-year rule

2.2.2. 90-day rule

2.2.3. Five-year rule

2.2.4. 183-day rule

2.2.5. Dual residence

3. Categories of income

3.1. Wages and salaries

3.2. Income from professional services

3.3. Contractual fees

3.4. Income from production and business

3.5. Directors' fees

3.6. Allowances and fringe benefits

3.7. High-value benefits

3.8. Income from other sources

3.9. Exemptions and credits

4. Calculating income tax

4.1. Taxable income

4.2. Deductions

4.3. Withholdings

4.4. Foreign tax credits

5. Dividends

5.1. Source

5.2. Dividend income received by residents

5.3. Exemptions and credits for residents

5.4. Dividend income received by non-residents

5.5. Withholding Tax for non-residents

6. Interest

6.1. Source

6.2. Interest income received by residents

6.3. Exemptions and credits for residents

6.4. Interest income received by non-residents

6.5. Withholding Tax for non-residents

7. Royalties

- 7.1. Source
- 7.2. Royalty income received by residents
- 7.3. Exemptions and credits for residents
- 7.4. Royalty income received by non-residents
- 7.5. Withholding Tax for non-residents

8. Capital gains

- 8.1. Gains
- 8.2. Losses
- 8.3. Source
- 8.4. Gains taxable to residents
- 8.5. Gains taxable to non-residents
- 8.6. Withholding Tax for non-residents

Chapter 27 - Conciliation

1. Introduction

2. The CCPIT/CCIC Conciliation Centre

2.1. The CCPIT/CCIC Conciliation Rules

2.2. Conciliation proceedings under the CCPIT/CCIC Conciliation Rules

3. Conciliation in other forums

3.1. Ad hoc conciliation

3.2. People's conciliation commissions

3.3. Conciliation in connection with administrative claims

3.4. Conciliation within arbitration proceedings

3.5. Conciliation within judicial proceedings

Chapter 28 - Administrative Remedies

1. Introduction to administrative remedies

1.1. Parties to administrative proceedings

1.1.1. Administrative organs

1.1.2. Other bodies or organizations authorized by laws or mandated by administrative organs

1.2. Specific and abstract administrative acts

1.2.1. Specific administrative acts

1.2.2. Abstract administrative acts

1.2.3. Options with respect to administrative remedies

2. Administrative reconsideration

2.1. Overview

2.2. Administrative reconsideration organs and administrative offices for reconsideration

2.2.1. Types

2.2.2. Duties

2.3. Jurisdiction over administrative reconsideration

2.4. Scope of administrative reconsideration

2.4.1. Admissibility for administrative reconsideration

2.4.2. Inadmissibility for administrative reconsideration

2.5. Parties in administrative reconsideration proceedings

2.5.1. Applicants

2.5.2. Respondents

2.5.3. Third parties

2.6. Administrative reconsideration proceedings

2.6.1. Application for administrative reconsideration

2.6.1.1. Limitation period for filing applications

2.6.1.2. Forms of application

2.6.1.3. Contents of application

2.6.1.4. Acceptance of applications

2.6.2. Examination of applications for administrative reconsideration

2.6.3. Burden of proof

2.6.4. Decisions on administrative reconsideration

2.6.4.1. Types of decision

2.6.4.2. Time limits for rendering decisions

2.6.4.3. Validity and execution of reconsideration decisions

3. Administrative litigation

3.1. Overview

3.2. Conditions of admissibility of cases

3.3. Jurisdiction

- 3.3.1. Hierarchical jurisdiction
- 3.3.2. Territorial jurisdiction
 - 3.3.2.1. General territorial jurisdiction
 - 3.3.2.2. Special territorial jurisdiction
- 3.3.3. Jurisdiction by order
 - 3.3.3.1. Referrals of jurisdiction
 - 3.3.3.2. Designations of jurisdiction
 - 3.3.3.3. Transfers of jurisdiction
- 3.3.4. Challenges to jurisdiction
- 3.4. Parties to administrative litigation
 - 3.4.1. Plaintiffs
 - 3.4.1.1. Standing of plaintiffs
 - 3.4.1.2. Transfers of claims
 - 3.4.1.3. Agents
 - 3.4.2. Defendants
 - 3.4.3. Third parties
- 3.5. Limitation periods for bringing suits
 - 3.5.1. General limitation periods
 - 3.5.2. Special limitation periods
- 3.6. Rules of evidence
- 3.7. Trial procedures
 - 3.7.1. Claims, acceptances and adjudications
 - 3.7.2. Judgments of first instance
- 3.8. Appeal procedures
 - 3.8.1. Orders
 - 3.8.2. Judgments on appeal
- 3.9. Execution
 - 3.9.1. Execution of a specific administrative act
 - 3.9.2. Execution of definitive judgments, orders and conciliation statements
 - 3.9.3. Suspension or termination of enforcement
- 3.10. Foreign-related proceedings

- 4. Administrative compensation
 - 4.1. Overview
 - 4.2. Claimants for administrative compensation
 - 4.3. Modes of claiming compensation
 - 4.4. Procedures in compensation proceedings
 - 4.5. Scope of compensation
 - 4.6. Exemptions from liability to compensate
 - 4.7. The requirement of actual harm

Chapter 29 - Litigation

1. Introduction to civil litigation
 - 1.1. Legal framework
 - 1.2. Treaties
 - 1.3. Foreign-related civil proceedings

2. Jurisdiction
 - 2.1. Original jurisdiction
 - 2.2. Territorial jurisdiction
 - 2.3. Exclusive jurisdiction

3. Service

4. Property preservation and preliminary execution

5. Trial Procedures
 - 5.1. Proceedings before courts of first instance
 - 5.1.1. Ordinary procedure
 - 5.1.2. Summary procedure
 - 5.2. Appeals
 - 5.3. Revision of definitive judgments
 - 5.4. Summary procedure for recovering a debt
 - 5.5. Public invitations to assert claims
 - 5.6. Bankruptcy of enterprises
 - 5.7. Burden of proof
 - 5.8. Limitation periods

6. Enforcement

7. Foreign-related proceedings
 - 7.1. Jurisdiction in foreign-related cases
 - 7.1.1. Service of foreign parties
 - 7.1.2. Contractual attributions of jurisdiction
 - 7.1.3. Original jurisdiction in foreign-related cases
 - 7.2. Applicable law
 - 7.2.1. Capacity
 - 7.2.2. Immovable property
 - 7.2.3. Intellectual property
 - 7.2.4. Torts
 - 7.2.5. Contracts
 - 7.3. Enforcement of foreign judgments and orders

Chapter 30 - Arbitration

1. Introduction to arbitration in China
2. Legal framework of arbitration in China
 - 2.1. Laws and rules that govern the conduct of arbitration in China
 - 2.2. Domestic/foreign-related arbitration
 - 2.3. Arbitration institutions in China
 - 2.3.1. China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission
 - 2.3.2. China Maritime Arbitration Commission
 - 2.3.3. Local arbitration commissions
 - 2.3.4. Foreign arbitration commissions
3. Arbitration proceedings
 - 3.1 Arbitration agreement
 - 3.2. Place of arbitration
 - 3.3. Substantive law in arbitration proceedings conducted under Chinese law
 - 3.4. Designation of arbitrators
 - 3.5. Evidence
 - 3.6. Hearings
 - 3.7. Award
 - 3.8. Fees
4. Setting-aside of arbitration awards
5. Enforcement of arbitration awards
 - 5.1. Non-foreign-related arbitration awards
 - 5.2. Foreign-related arbitration awards
 - 5.3. Foreign arbitration awards
 - 5.3.1. Competent court
 - 5.3.2. Substantive conditions
 - 5.3.3. Pre-reporting system
 - 5.4. Enforcement of inter-territorial arbitration awards
 - 5.4.1. Hong Kong awards
 - 5.4.2. Macao awards
 - 5.4.3 Taiwan awards
6. Conclusion